Types of Classes Offered at ASU Mid-South

Face to Face Class

Traditional on-campus courses will meet in the assigned locations according to the published schedule. Class spaces will be carefully structured and enrollments limited to accommodate social distancing protocols.

Traditional Online Class

Traditional online classes are taught online for maximum flexibility. Course materials, lessons, activities, and assignments are located online in Canvas, the College's Learning Management System (LMS). Students can plan their study time to fit their schedules. Students will access and satisfy course requirements within a flexible time frame with clear deadlines.

Hybrid Class

Hybrid courses have a required on-campus component and an online component. The schedule indicates the day(s), time, and location of the on-campus class requirement. Class spaces will be carefully structured and enrollments limited to accommodate social distancing protocols. Students will access and satisfy course requirements within Canvas.

Flexible Delivery Class

Flexible delivery courses offer multiple content delivery options. Students may or may not attend class for each scheduled day/time, but should plan to be available during published times to attend as required, whether virtually or in-person. Any required class presence will follow social distancing protocols. In place of classroom presence, some online/virtual activities may be completed using Canvas. Students will access and satisfy course requirements within a flexible time frame with clear deadlines.

ASU Mid-South reserves the right to move instruction in any class to an online or other alternative delivery format in the event of a local, state, or national emergency.
