Southland Casino Racing Gives ASU Mid-South Final $100,000 Toward Million-Dollar Pledge for Hospitality Program

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (June 17, 2021) Southland Casino Racing, in collaboration with its parent company, Delaware North, presented Arkansas State University Mid-South with the final $100,000 check of a million dollar pledge on Thursday, June 17, 2021.

The donation is the tenth of ten annual payments to support the Jeremy M. Jacobs Hospitality Program, which is named after Delaware North's chairman and CEO. "As our business evolves and expands, our need for well-trained and highly-skilled employees continues to escalate," said David Wolf, Southland Casino president and general manager. "This program will continue to generate a deep pool of qualified hospitality workers who will strengthen the tourism and entertainment efforts of Crittenden County and our region."

Dr. Debra West, chancellor of ASU Mid-South, said the hospitality program credits Southland's generosity with converting the college's vision into a reality. "Southland put us in a position beginning in 2012 to create something we had considered for quite some time but could never find the resources to establish," West said. "We wanted to offer a cutting-edge program, and as is Southland's way, they have provided us with the funds to develop something extraordinary." "Their generosity continues to help our students tremendously," West continued. "And we are certainly very appreciative of everything Delaware North and Southland Park have done to ensure a brighter future for our region."

Southland's continuing commitment to the college are evident as its overall gifts exceed $1.6 million since 2006. In recognition of the multiple contributions, the college named one of its classroom buildings the "Southland Greyhound Science Center."

Southland has also provided significant funding for endowed scholarships as well as a $250,000 commitment to Greyhound athletic efforts at the college. The gaming establishment has also made a substantial contribution to ASU Mid-South's Emergency Medical Technician program.
